

Organizational Planner

Label each rectangle on the grid to represent a room in your house. (Make additional copies as needed.) Think about the purpose and function of each room. Then list the kinds of items that belong there. Refer to it as you organize, reminding yourself to eliminate items that don't contribute to the usefulness, comfort and functionality of a given space.

Room Planning, _____
